

AVMetrics attended the Valuation 2009 Conference and Collateral Risk Network (CRN) meeting November 8 – 11, 2009. During this time, we had a chance to meet with executives from across the industry as well as government agencies to discuss current developments and best practices in the collateral risk management field. The conference provided a unique opportunity to gain insight about industry developments, create new contacts, and to renew and strengthen relationships with our colleagues and friends. The annual event, held this year in New Orleans, provides consistently good speakers, meaningful, relevant and timely topics and a great venue for interaction among participants from across the industry. Lee Kennedy, Managing Director of AVMetrics, shown here with his wife Lynn, hosted morning coffee for the Valuation 2009 Conference attendees and exhibitors.
